

To commemorate the 200th anniversary of the start of the Greek Revolution in 1821, the Laboratory of Narrative Research of the School of English of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki is organizing a two-day online symposium titled The Greek War of Independence and the United States: Narratives of Myth and Reality on March 19-20, 2021. The symposium seeks to explore the global significance of the Greek war of independence through its powerful impact upon the American society and culture. For more information, visit the symposium webpage.

The available places for the online event are limited. Please fill in the form made available here in order to secure registration.

Information about the zoom link to be used will be sent to all attendees the day before the event.

For further queries, please contact:

Prof. Zoe Detsi

detsi@enl.auth.gr